FE development: Input fields & basic events

Event driven programming - Star - Text area field

The following exercise contains the following subjects:
- o input fields
- o basic events

Question

Create a webpage that has part of an application process for a job. This page should have textarea field, and a button. Your user must enter at least 100 characters before clicking the button. If he didn't, please give him the appropriate message. (using alert is forbidden)